Talbot and Muir launch a new and improved website for advisers

Talbot and Muir, the independent Self Invested Personal Pension (SIPP) and Small Self Administered Scheme (SSAS) specialist have today launched a new dynamic website for their advisers.

Created with the user experience firmly in mind, the website has been designed using the latest technology so the site is compatible with today's browsers and mobile devices for advisers who are out and about seeing clients.

The addition of the SIPP fee estimator makes it easy for advisers to get a simple overview of the charges that would be applicable to their client should they wish to proceed without the need to get a full illustration at outset. If they do want to take it further then the online illustration request will ensure that all the correct information is provided so an illustration can be provided swiftly by email.

Graham Muir, Principle of Talbot and Muir, says: "We have listened to advisers comments about financial services websites in recent times, regarding the inability for them to find the information they want quickly, easily and whilst on the move. We have added simple filter functionality to help advisers drill down to the technical information they need with ease.

Graham goes on to explain: "We understand that advisers spend a lot of time repeating details on forms and will shortly be launching a wizard to help advisers complete all the appropriate forms by completing the details only once. This will be a real time saver in the long run for advisers and we are happy to invest to make their lives easier."

Other features of the new site include additional navigational aids, a library of technical material which is added to and reviewed constantly. There is also a facility for Advisors to pose technical questions online and to receive a rapid response.
